STAWAMUS CHIEF SQUAMISH

The District of Squamish is located in the southwest corner of British Columbia, where rugged landscapes and stunning vistas come together to create a unique and memorable location.

Guarded by the Stawamus Chief and inhabited by North America's highest concentration of wintering bald eagles. Squamish is an authentic West Coast mountain town with an award-winning craft brewery and distillery, farm to table dining experiences, sidewalk cafes, driftwood beaches and a rich First Nations culture.

Squamish is ideally situated on the scenic Sea to Sky Highway between Vancouver, British Columbia's largest city and Whistler, one of North America's most scenic coast routes.

Squamish a sought-after destination for mountain bikers, hikers, rock climbers, kite and wind surfers, kayakers, ski tourers, wildlife viewers and backcountry enthusiasts alike.

SCANDINAVIAN SPA WHISTLER

The Scandinavian Spa is just minutes away from Whistler Blackcomb, the consistently ranked No.1 ski resort in North America. We are conveniently located in the village and all major hotels in Whistler. Visit any season of the year.

Scandinave spa Whistler offers traditional Scandinavian baths in a peaceful and natural environment. The Spa's rustic installations, dedicated to the practice of hydrotherapy, are nestled on the edge of the Lost park spruce and cedar forest. Feel both relaxed and invigorated while you escape from daily stress.

Reserve your spa and massage package. Find the massage that best suits your needs among the traditional treatments offered by qualified message therapists.

BRITANNIA MINE MUSEUM SQUAMISH

Go for Gold at the Britannia Mine Museum. Located in beautiful Britannia Beach just 10 minutes south of Squamish, this 10-acre award-winning museum and National Historic Site is full of all-ages fun including rock and mineral activities, gold panning, museum tours and an underground mine train that you can ride on yourself. It Rocks!

From historical machinery to heritage buildings, the museum houses everything from machines and ore carts to a working Lime Tank along with other reminders of the mining town that once was.

Discover the captivating story of the Mill with an imaginative storytelling experience unlike anything else in North America. Staged within the almost 100 year old Mill building, BOOM! Will bring the architectural marvel thundering back to life with lights, sounds and special effects.
